DISTILLER WAS KILLED

Nephew of the Late James Hargis of Kentucky, Died With His Boots on Today.

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 19.—Nat Crawford, a wealthy distiller, and a nephew of the late Judge James Hargis, of feud fame, was shot and killed today in his distillery two miles from Jackson. The authorities are searching for three men and a woman who were seen to leave the vicinity soon after a number of shots had been fired. When found by his neighbors, Crawford's revolver was laying at his side. Several shots had penetrated his body. The grand jury has begun a special investigation.

Original Sale Will Stand.

Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 18.—The minority stockholders of the Rio Grande railroad, who were given until tonight to file a bond for $125,000 guaranteeing that a resale of the road would bring at least this amount, failed to provide the bond as required. The original sale, as made to William E. Guey for $48,000, will now stand, as ordered by Judge Burns in the United States circuit court at Houston.

San Antonio Gambling Raid.

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 18.—The first raid of a gambling house run by white persons since the new law became effective was made tonight. The place was in a rooming house on Houston street.

COLQUITT'S SUCCESSOR.

Poinexter Reported as Likelihood.
Thompson Also Mentioned.

(Herald Special.)

Austin, Texas, Oct. 18.—It is now reported that Governor-to-be Colquitt will appoint Judge Wm. Poinexter as a member of the railroad commission when he (Colquitt) retires from that body upon assuming the high role of governor of Texas. This would be a strategic move politically. And, too, Judge Poinexter is recognized as a strong man. Naturally Mr. Colquitt is not discussing the matter, for he has not been formally elected as yet. It is not known whether Judge Poinexter is interested or not.

The name of R. A. Thompson is also being discussed generally at the state house as the probable successor to Mr. Colquitt. Mr. Thompson made an enviable record as chief engineer of the commission, and his testimony before the Interstate Commerce Commission so attracted that body that he was specially employed, but did not like the work and resigned, going to the Wichita Falls lines, where he is now chief engineer of the system. Mr. Thompson was an instructor in the university, and if appointed on the commission would combine many qualities. His service with the commission was not confined to the engineering department alone, but he was familiar with all branches of the work, and is unusually well informed on railroad matters generally. He would be the first practical railroader ever appointed on the commission if he should receive the place.

Katy Depot Is Robbed.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 18.—The theft of $3000 from the Missouri, Kansas and Texas station at Choteau, Okla., was discovered today and the authorities are seeking a man who suddenly left Saturday for Mexico. The loss was not found until today. Fifteen hundred dollars was the company's fund and fifteen hundred dollars shipped by the First National Bank of Muskogee to the Choteau Bank and Trust company is missing. Auditors took charge today and found the safe empty.

Sherman Race Feeling.

Sherman, Texas, Oct. 18.—Ernest Johnson, the cashier of the Crystal Cafe, shot and killed by the negro, Wood Maxey, midnight Sunday, will be buried here this afternoon. Sheriff Sam Riche, who spirited the negro away yesterday to avert a lynching, returned this morning, but refused to divulge where the prisoner was taken. It is reported that Maxey is in the Hillsboro jail. Resentment against negroes on account of the recent murders of white men is still growing.

Remembered His Friend.

Sherman, Texas, Oct. 18.—Tom B. Owen, a wealthy cattleman of this city, died here early this morning, leaving all his money and property to Harry Bromley of Los Angeles, who, Owen said, once did him a great favor. Owen was an Englishman and is said to leave no relatives.
